SHAW KIDNAPS OWN SON.

Wife Had Deserted Him and Taken Son With Her.

Santa Barbara, Cal., May 1.—Detectives employed by J. F. Shaw of Boston yesterday raided the house occupied by Mrs. Shaw and Keno Marble, formerly the Shaw chauffeur, and took possession of the 10-year-old son of the Shaws.

The boy was taken to the police station, where he is now held.

Mrs. Shaw says she will fight to prevent the boy being taken East. The raid was directly early yesterday morning by Lewis Field, the Shaw family butler.

According to the story as told here, Mrs. Shaw deserted her husband in Brookline in June, 1907, and came to California in the company of Marble, bringing her 10-year-old son with her. The couple went first to Pasadena, where a home was established, but over a year ago came to Santa Barbara and went into the moving picture business. The detectives employed by Shaw trailed the couple to Pasadena and then here.

Boston, May 1.—J. F. Shaw is a member of the state Senate from this city. Mrs. Shaw was Miss Grace Eldredge, daughter of H. Fisher Eldredge, a wealthy brewer of Portsmouth, N. H. The boy has been the subject of litigation for some time and an attempt was made last summer by representatives of Senator Shaw to obtain custody of the child. Mrs. Shaw left for the West some months ago.

HEIR TO DUTCH THRONE.

A Daughter Is Born to Queen Wilhelmina.

The Hague, May 1.—Wilhelmina, queen of the Netherlands, gave birth to a daughter yesterday morning. The condition of her majesty is most satisfactory. The infant princess is doing well, and Holland is celebrating the happy event from one end of the country to the other, with expressions of joy and gratification, such as seldom before have been witnessed on the part of this placid people. The political significance of the occurrence lies in the fact that there is now a direct heir to the throne of the Netherlands, a circumstance that very greatly enhances the chances of the country for continued independence.

Every town and village in Holland is today celebrating the long-awaited birth of a child to her majesty with demonstrations of satisfaction. The queen was married to Prince Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Feb. 7, 1901. On two previous occasions the hopes of the people for an heir to the throne have been disappointed, a fact that makes rejoicings of today more heartfelt. Here in the capital, in spite of the heavy downpours of rain, the streets are gaily decorated and great crowds are manifesting their gratification. The people read eagerly the special sheets that have been issued free by the newspapers, announcing the happy event.

EAST MONTPELIER

L. D. Ceburn was in Barre on business last Friday.

Miss Susie Badger has gone to Orange to teach this summer.

Earl and Arthur Bartlett were with relatives in Plainfield Sunday.

Arthur Lavigne has been quite ill this week, and under Dr. Wheeler's care.

Mrs. John Bond is now able to sit up, but is still under the doctor's care, with heart trouble.

Mrs. Earl Bartlett and daughter Mary went to Plainfield Saturday visiting and returned home Monday.

The schools in town began last week. Miss Beryl Green of Waterbury is again teaching at East Village.

Arthur Bartlett attended the lecture by Russell Conwell in Barre last week and enjoyed it very much.

H. M. Farnham is expected home from Chicago to-night and the 20 horses he bought will come Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Shibley were guests at the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Cameron in Barre City last week.

The grange will give a reception Wednesday evening, May 5, to Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hammett, who were married in town April 8.

Joe Bishop has recovered from his recent illness with pneumonia, and both of his children are very sick this week with bronchitis.

Mrs. Charity Johnson returned home Sunday from Charles Persons's in Barre Town, where she has been during the illness of Mrs. Persons.

The river road below the East village is in a very bad condition since the high water, and the needed repairs will make a large and expensive job.

Will La Point came home from Williamstown Thursday to see his mother, who is ill from overwork during sickness in her family the past winter.

A good many of the farmers here have already bought a lot of hay and others expect to be obliged to do so before they can use their pastures, though a few have turned their stock out this week.

FOR FLORIDA PROHIBITION.

Governor Expected to Sign Bill for Submission.

Tallahassee, May 1.—It is expected that Governor Gilchrist in the next few days will sign the resolution providing for the submission to the voters of the question of amending the state constitution so as to provide for state-wide prohibition. From now until November, 1910, when the election on the question will be held, Florida doubtless will be the scene of some hard campaigning on behalf of both the opponents and those who favor prohibition. Florida, being one of the few remaining Southern states yet in the "wet" column, the real battleground of the prohibition fight will be centered in this state.

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgement.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medical roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrappers. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proven remedy or known composition. Ask your neighbors. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

This Feature Saves Discs Reduces Draft Improves Cultivation

You can get it only on the

Walter A. Wood Disc Harrow

The flexible gangs pass over stones (as shown in the above picture) without injury to the discs. They adjust themselves in like manner to uneven ground and always work at a uniform depth. The roughest field is tilled as nicely as the perfectly level one. By means of a foot lever the driver adjusts the spring-pressure on the inside gangs to suit the nature of the soil. This exclusive feature, together with the direct draft and the high grade sharp steel discs, makes the work very light for the team. Simple in construction, durable and easily adjusted, the Walter A. Wood Disc Harrow is the favorite of thousands of farmers.

MAGAZINE REVIEW.

The Self-Improvement Habit as an Asset.

The very reputation of having an ambition to amount to something in the world, of having a grand life aim is worth everything, says a writer in "Success."

"Success." The moment your associates find that you are dead-in earnest; that you mean business; that they cannot shake you from your determination to get on in the world, or rob you of your time or persuade you to waste it in frivolous things, you will not only be an inspiring example to them, but the very people who are throwing away their time will also admire your stand, respect it, and profit by it, and you will thus be able to protect yourself from a thousand annoyances and time wasters, and experiences which would only hinder you.

In other words, there is everything in declaring yourself, in taking a stand and thereby announcing to the world that you do not propose to be a failure or an ignoramus; that you are going to take no chances on your future; that you are going to prepare yourself for something out of the ordinary, away beyond mediocrity, something large and grand.

The moment you do this you stand out in strong contrast from the great mass of people who are throwing away their opportunities and have no grit and stamina enough to do anything worth while, or to make any great effort to be somebody in the world.

The Effect of a Trust on an Industry.

That a huge trust for the control of the country's water power has been quietly growing in the United States, is the subject of an article by Judson C. Welliver in the May McClure's. Mr. Welliver says:

"How trust control of water power affects industry may be illustrated by the story of an effort to bring a great industry from Norway to this country. This is the industry of synthetically manufacturing niter. The concern is operating now in Norway, where it has a million horse-power in sight. American interests, strong in the company, want to move it to the United States. Recently one of the men heavily interested in the concern called on officials of the Interior Department at Washington and said in substance:

"We want to bring our industry to the United States. It involves big capital and extensive employment. Americans should want it, because it is important that the country should be assured, in case of war, of an ample supply of niter as a basis for making explosives. We have a million horse-power in Norway, and must see as much in sight here. We find that your powers are getting into the control of an alliance of interests, and we want to go where the powers have not been exploited; we will not be puffed by the trust. We can't well go to the Pacific coast, it is too far from our market. Where shall we look for such a power?"

"The inquirer was told where he could find such power as he wanted and advised to investigate certain regions that are believed not to have been conquered by the trust."

A Polite Tramp.

"What are you doing here?" said the woman to the tramp who had got over the wall just in time to escape the bulldog.

"Madam," replied the dignified vagrant, "I did intend to request something to eat, but as I ask now is that in the interests of humanity you'll feed that dog?"—London Globe.

"Doctor's Daughter"

SAYS: "Very few people appear to appreciate or understand the various symptoms caused by diseases of the organs of digestion. Almost always these symptoms are thought to indicate diseases of the heart, lungs, kidneys and other organs of the body, for the simple reason, that when the organs of digestion become diseased, the other organs of the body often become affected sympathetically, causing many erroneous conclusions as to the origin and nature of the disease."

The stomach and organs of digestion are to the other organs of the human body, what the roots are to the tree or plant, they supply the blood which keeps the body or plant alive. When the stomach and organs of digestion are strong and healthy and our food is well digested it will make rich, pure blood. Our blood is not the same all the time as you may think, but is constantly changing, and its quality and quantity will always depend upon the food we eat and digest.

When our blood is rich and pure it will prevent disease and heal all injuries. Young children having vigorous stomachs and good blood making powers, their blood is rich and rapidly heals and restores their bodies after disease or injuries.

Indigestion often causes the skin and complexion to become rusty and dingy, sallow, faded and spotted, owing to the retention of various impurities in the blood, which ought to be cast off and discharged from the system by the action of the liver and digestive canal. No pathological fact is better established than that neuralgia, rheumatism and gout in their various forms and phases, are produced by the accumulation of uric acid in the blood and that they are the result of imperfect digestion of our food."

A noted physician has said: "In nearly all cases of fatal chronic diseases of the heart, lungs, brain, kidneys, rheumatism, sciatica, etc., when the mucous membrane lining the stomach and intestinal canal is carefully examined, numerous traces of diseases will be discovered. Sometimes it will be congested, red and inflamed, and in many cases of long standing disease, thickened and ulcerated, thus proving conclusively that fatal complications or diseases of other organs were originally caused by chronic inflammation, congestion, thickening or ulceration of the mucous membrane lining the intestinal canal."

For the relief and cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and allied troubles Stomach-Rite is the best medicine and has fully demonstrated its true worth in thousands of cases as the grateful users have testified. My father, Dr. John Wilbur, believed you should take as little medicine as possible but when you did need medicine to take only the best. If you would be healthy, eat good nourishing food and be able to properly digest it. Stomach-Rite assists the stomach and digestive organs, helps nature to do the work and brings a new life to the intestinal tract and cleanses the system of all impurities. If your food digests and your liver is active what health you enjoy—no indigestion—no constipation—a bright clear complexion, active brain, a good appetite and able to enjoy your food, truly life is then worth living—Stomach-Rite has done these things for many New England people, won't you let it do the same for you?

Very truly yours,
John Wilbur
